

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Household fans here have noted with interest that Representative E. L. Harlow voted to override the veto of Governor Lake on the bill, passed by the general assembly, which would have allowed the playing of professional baseball and concerts on Sunday afternoon. Representative Prineas of the Second district of the town voted to sustain the veto.

Another clash at the motorcade (like the one taken in the bill, now before the legislature, to tax gasoline one cent a gallon and automobiles will be in open rebellion against the taxing scheme of the legislature, if what car drivers said about the matter on Thursday amounts to anything. Why not, when the car owners for theater tickets, phonograph records, rides on scenic railways and other amusements of the general public, are all millionaires? If a man has a car, even though it isn't worth over forty cents, catch him, pick him up by the back and shake him until his pockets are empty. He may have money. Get it all before going after any of the other citizens of the state and their luxuries or business enterprises.

William A. Hoyle of New London, a former resident of Danielson, has presented the local public library a copy of handbook on the subject. Ventriloquism, written by Charles H. Olin, who lived in Danielson for several years and was a personal friend of Mr. Hoyle. Mr. Olin, himself a ventriloquist, was for many years engaged in newspaper work. He died a few months ago. He had been engaged on papers published in Boston and other New England cities.

Rev. Henry R. Vye of Eden Park, R. I., is to be the Memorial day speaker at the exercises to be held in East Killingly. As is usual at East Killingly, the services will be held in the morning, beginning at the church promptly at 10 o'clock. Children of the schools will assist at the service and will sing several numbers. After the church service a procession escorted by the Volunteer band will proceed to East Killingly cemetery and decorate the graves of the soldier dead.

At the fire station Thursday evening there was a meeting of men interested in the reorganization of the Danielson Business Men's association at the Danielson Chamber of Commerce. The present ment activity follows the very successful booster banquet that was held Wednesday evening of last week. Much enthusiasm has been aroused and the promise is for a live and effective working organization.

The first consignment of equipment for the supply company of the 1924 artillery arrived here Thursday by motor truck from Hartford. The shipments contained a miscellaneous assortment of material, including shoes, shirts, blue denim suits, field desks, typewriters, scales, platform scales, etc., etc., but all essential to the complete equipping of such an organization as a supply company. The material is to be stored at the state armory, where it was delivered and turned over to Captain F. O. Armington.

Many friends here are interested in the announcement that E. C. Babson of the West Side has been named as chaplain of the Connecticut State division of the Sons of Veterans. Mr. Babson's appointment came as a complete surprise to him. Mr. Babson has long been an active member of Colonel Edward Anderson camp, S. of V., of Danielson and his appointment to the state chaplaincy is regarded as recognition of his splendid service in behalf of the local camp and the order generally.

A young men's day is the first event that has been planned to arouse interest in Danielson in the organization of Windham county for Y. M. C. A. work. The feature of this event will be a public meeting to be held at the Congregational church Sunday, June 5. A speaker representing the Y. M. C. A. will come here to deliver an address. Local committees have been appointed to make arrangements for the meeting.

State road crews are engaged in patching up bad places in the state highway between Attawaug and Putnam. The Danielson-Putnam route is now getting more hard wear from the state highway than any other state highway line in this part of the state. At present it is in exceedingly poor condition between the northern limits of the borough and Elmville.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Shea of New London and Mrs. Thomas E. Shea of Norwich have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kennerly at the Danielson.

Rev. J. Spencer Voorhees will speak at the services at the Congregational church Sunday morning next.

R. L. Dayson of Brattleboro, Vt., was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Thursday.

Victor Perreault is employed at present in caring for the big Lapsley orchard in the town of Pomfret.

Traffic should not attempt to use the Brooklyn-Hampton route to Willimantic. This road is closed because of state highway work and passage of traffic is not allowed.

Progress continues to be made in getting tennis courts ready near the Old People's home, but they will not be completed and ready for use for some time to come.

Sunday afternoon a Neighborhood service is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wheeler, in the Maheshonick district.

Mrs. Eugene Young of Main street will have members of the Ladies' Reading circle at her home for a meeting next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Box and family are soon to move from the superintendent's residence at the Congregational church to their new place at Pomfret, where they are to make their home.

Dr. H. C. Dixon was at Hartford on Thursday attending the meeting of the State Medical society.

Arthur D. Vincent of Lowell was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Thursday.

Cyrus Pelouin, recently operated for appendicitis at the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam, was reported on Thursday as feeling comfortably.

Miss Myrtle Putnam of Baltic has been visiting with friends in Danielson.

It seems that Danielson has residents with sporting blood enough to be giving consideration already to getting ticklers for the Dempsey-Carpentier match, which is attracting country-wide attention.

Martha Luther, the Reformer, will be the subject of an address at the evening service at the Congregational church on Sunday.

Two or three cases of special local interest have been disposed of this week at sessions of the superior court at Willimantic. These cases were on the criminal list.

Warden Keach is giving consideration to ways and means of relieving congestion of traffic in the business section, where scores of cars are parked most of the time. Offer of a parking place on School street has been generously made by a property owner.

Cromwell—A branch of the League of Women Voters has been formed here and the officers elected are headed by Mrs. W. P. Conch, president.

PUTNAM

It will be good news to the people of Putnam to know that the Manchester company, manufacturers of the fabric, is now getting along famously and that the future looks very bright for this big textile corporation, one of the very important industries of the city. Steady progress has been made during the past month in getting the plant on a production basis. Some of the departments have been running overtime and prospects are so good as to be highly encouraging. Agent Robert W. Boys of the concern has leased the Harry place at Pomfret street and soon will remove his family from Goodyear to Pomfret. Agent Boys will travel between Putnam and Pomfret each day.

H. R. Smith, state county clerk secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was in Putnam on Thursday for a conference with G. Harold Gilpatrick and others relative to the plans for doing organization work in Windham county. Mr. Gilpatrick said that it has been proposed that a way be set aside by church of Windham county for discussion of the plans to be carried out and to arouse the enthusiasm necessary to make the undertaking successful.

Representatives L. M. Keith and Hector Duvert of Putnam are recorded as voting to overturn the veto of Governor Eversett J. Lake on the measure under which professional baseball and concerts would be permitted in Connecticut on Sunday. It seemed to be the general impression about town on Thursday that the vote of the representatives reflected what would have been the result of a popular vote on the matter had it been left to the electors of Putnam to pass upon them.

There will be plenty of business for the city court to consider at this (Friday) morning's session. This is the day on which a number of persons charged with violation of the local police are non-residents of the state or traffic regulations of the city have been summoned to appear. The majority of those who have been summoned into court, as the result of activities of the local police, are non-residents of the state and have come from Providence, Worcester and Quindick, R. I.

The work of clearing up the ruins caused by the fire at the Bradley theatre was practically completed on Thursday. Rush work is to be done in getting the house in shape for use.

Smith said Thursday morning that he expected that Saturday of next week would be the re-opening date.

The state has been seriously damaged by the fire and can be quickly repaired. The body of the house was not damaged by fire or water and needs only the attention of decorators.

The dressing room section, which was considerably damaged can be repaired at leisure, a site use is not required for picture entertainments, to which the theatre has been practically entirely devoted for a long time.

Before dreams or other such entertainments can again be presented at the Bradley, new scenery will have to be prepared to replace that which was in the fire. This will not interfere with the re-opening of the theatre, however.

This has been another week of woodland fires. Towns all through this territory have experienced such fires during the past four days and on Thursday the whole countryside hereabout was smoky and hazy as the result of fires of more or less consequence that had broken out in different townships.

It is not often that one kills two woodchucks with one shot, but this little stunt was accomplished by Arthur Barstow, son of William Barstow, residents at South Woodstock. The boy pulled an on on the woodchuck and shot it into range in time to get his quarry.

A Pinkerton representative has been in this city the past few days seeking trace of diamond and other jewelry stolen from the Golding residence at Providence. A reward of $200 was offered for the return of the valuables. The search in this city proved to be fruitless.

Automobiles of this city were up in arms Thursday over the bill under which owners of machines would be taxed one cent for each gallon of gasoline used in their cars. The measure is regarded as rubbing it in to the motorists, who have been made the objects of more taxation than any other group of citizens in the state. One citizen suggested that the legislature appropriate the entire taxing needs of the state among the motorists and have the job over with. He said that seems to be the ultimate result of all the schemes to raise revenue.

The first in a series of concerts to be given here by the South Manchester Salvation Army band in aid of the Salvation Army drive for funds will be given Saturday evening in the auditorium of the Methodist church.

Windsor park will be open for the first time this season on the holiday. P. J. Sheridan of this city again will be in charge of the concessions, as he has for the past few seasons, which have been successful and to management pleasing to the public.

Alton Thayer will be the leader at the Young People's service to be held at the Congregational church early Sunday evening, preceding the mass meeting in the interest of the Salvation army drive.

The still seized following a fire Tuesday morning has been of interest to many visitors at the police station, and the thought has been suggested that it may serve to give suggestions to others who are handy and might make one of their own.

There is an unverified rumor of the possibility of the resumption of trolley service between Putnam and Webster. One line from North Grovesdale to Webster has not been operated for nearly two years.

Joseph D. Flagg, secretary of the Memorial day committee, has requested organizations that are to participate to notify him as to how many of their representatives may be expected to be in

Mr. Essex Owner!

YOU know and I know that the Essex is the greatest little car on the market. Mine certainly pleases me—especially when I pass the larger cars along the road with such ease.

But I learned a few weeks ago how to make my Essex better!

I went on a trip to Springfield with Sam Tuttle. Sam uses his Essex for business purposes and saves dollars of railroad fares.

I noticed that Sam's car had more response and power than mine. This pleased me somewhat as I had spent over $100.00 in the past few months for overhauling and carbon grinding.

But I was dumbfounded when Sam's gas indicator showed that on the 100-mile trip he had used but six gallons of gas. I had burned up a little over nine.

So I asked Sam what kind of magic he had used to make his Essex perform so wonderfully. He gave me his secret—FAM-O.

As a result of his trip, I poured an eight-ounce can of FAM-O in my gas tank before starting a 226-mile trip to Vermont. I was getting 11 miles to the gallon when I started out. On the return trip I averaged over 16. And that small can of FAM-O at $1.00 did the trick for me.

Now I make a practice of pouring about 2 ounces of FAM-O in every ten gallons of gas. And some day if you see a red Essex touring car go ripping by up some steep hill, you'll know it's yours truly with his FAM-O-ized Wonder Car. Send $1.00 to GORDON MANUFACTURING CO., Foxboro Mass., for 8-oz. can—enough FAM-O for 40 gallons of gasoline.
